Winter 2008

Hi all,

There is much exciting news to update and tell you about below! But first.... I was fascinated reading the story of the healing of Hezekiah in 2 Kings 20 recently. The healing was so simple and such a regular procedure – no miracles or anything just a plain and simple lump of figs! It is worth noting that not all healing that takes place has to be miraculous – some could be just as simple as giving someone an aspirin or a kind word spoken! That means we all have the capacity to heal somebody who is hurting!

We can all bring a word of encouragement or a gentle steadying hand to someone it does not matter who we are or what our place is in life, if we are Christians we have even more power (Is 61:1) at our disposal - 'The Spirit of the Sovereign Lord is upon me/you/us'. That is pretty awesome stuff!

I am writing this to you from our new home in Kosova. You may recall in the last newsletter in the summer that as a couple we were uncertain over our future, we had just returned from Kosova but were still looking and seeking God for the next step. Well a door has opened and we are starting a new adventure in the Southern part of the country.

We are directors of a day-care centre in a tiny village called Krushe Vogel. All the information about what we are doing can be found on the website under 'newsletters'. I would value your thoughts and prayers over our future. There is such a need for education and treatment here - preventing and supporting addiction that this could be a place where we could be of most need. This will be a long term view however and for the short-term we will settle in and get accustomed to the culture and people and see where God leads us - as they say in Kosova "pak nga pak" (little by little)!

In addition we have now re-launched the website and are grateful to Wayne for his help in this. This will hopefully provide help and support for those suffering the effects of addiction not just in the English speaking world but eventually the Albanian (Kosovan language) as well. The address is the same as before www.theway.uk.com Please do give us your feedback on this.

Have a fantastic winter and every blessing for Christmas.

In Him

Chris
